INFORMATION GOVERNANCE POLICY

Summary

Information is a vital asset, both in terms of the clinical management of individual patients and the efficient management of services and resources. It plays a key part in clinical governance, service planning and performance management.

It is therefore of paramount importance to ensure that information is efficiently managed, and that appropriate policies, procedures and management accountability provide a robust governance framework for information management.

Principles

Wallingbrook Health Group recognises the need for an appropriate balance between openness and confidentiality in the management and use of information. The Group fully supports the principles of corporate governance and recognises its public accountability, but equally places importance on the confidentiality of, and the security arrangements to safeguard, both personal information about patients and staff and commercially sensitive information. The Group also recognises the need to share patient information with other health organisations and other agencies in a controlled manner consistent with the interests of the patient and, in some circumstances, the public interest.

The Group believes that accurate, timely and relevant information is essential to deliver the highest quality health care. As such it is the responsibility of all clinicians and managers to ensure and promote the quality of information and to actively use information in decision making processes.

There are 4 key interlinked strands to the information governance policy:

- Openness
- Legal compliance
- Information security
- Quality assurance

Openness

- Non-confidential information on the Group and its services should be available to the public through a variety of media, in line with the Group's code of openness
- The Group will establish and maintain policies to ensure compliance with the Freedom of Information Act
- The Group will undertake or commission annual assessments and audits of its policies and arrangements for openness
- Patients should have ready access to information relating to their own health care, their options for treatment and their rights as patients
- The Group will have clear procedures and arrangements for liaison with the press and broadcasting media
- The Group will have clear procedures and arrangements for handling queries from patients and the public

Legal Compliance

- The Group regards all identifiable personal information relating to patients as confidential
- The Group will undertake or commission annual assessments and audits of its compliance with legal requirements

- The Group regards all identifiable personal information relating to staff as confidential except where national policy on accountability and openness requires otherwise
- The Group will establish and maintain policies to ensure compliance with the Data Protection Act, Human Rights Act and the common law confidentiality
- The Group will establish and maintain policies for the controlled and appropriate sharing of patient information with other agencies, taking account of relevant legislation (e.g. Health and Social Care Act, Crime and Disorder Act, Protection of Children Act)

Information Security

- The Group will establish and maintain policies for the effective and secure management of its information assets and resources
- The Group will undertake or commission annual assessments and audits of its information and IT security arrangements
- The Group will promote effective confidentiality and security practice to its staff through policies, procedures and training
- The Group will establish and maintain incident reporting procedures and will monitor and investigate all reported instances of actual or potential breaches of confidentiality and security

Information Quality Assurance

- The Group will establish and maintain policies and procedures for information quality assurance and the effective management of records
- The Group will undertake or commission annual assessments and audits of its information quality and records management arrangements
- Managers are expected to take ownership of, and seek to improve, the quality of information within their services
- Wherever possible, information quality should be assured at the point of collection
- Data standards will be set through clear and consistent definition of data items, in accordance with national standards.
- The Group will promote information quality and effective records management through policies, procedures/user manuals and training
